“ I just found out. My condolences to the family. I was one of Grant's teachers at Bad Axe - I always enjoyed seeing him in class. School wasn't his first love, but he always had a smile and a kind word. Nice young man, terrible pity.

“ I will forever remember Grant as Netanya's preschool boyfriend. She was so excited to get on the Tat bus because Grant was on there, and she could sit with him. This little blond-haired boy had a sparkle about him that drew her to him. The same sparkle that I would see when I was in the classroom as a parent volunteer. I imagine that's the same sparkle that his parents saw, and will forever remember. I can't imagine the pain they're in, and my heart aches for them. I hope you find comfort in the fact that he touched people, and even as a small child, he left an impression. I am so deeply sorry for your loss, and I'm keeping you all in my thoughts and prayers.

“ I remember Grant always coming to my house for my mom to babysit him, we would have so many adventures in my backyard whether it was climbing trees and hanging from the branches or trying to catch frogs and fish in my pond. He is an amazing guy. I'm sending all of my prayers to the family and friends. He is with God now, he's home in heaven now.
